TITLE: Lo giovane cittadino in Europa 2 - Se lavoro imparo, se imparo lavoro

DESCRIPTION:

Europe, June 2013: 5.5 million young persons under 25’s are unemployed, of whom 3.5 million are in the euro area. The youth unemployment rate is 23.2% in the EU-27 and 23.9% in the euro area. The highest rate, after Greece and Spain, is observed in Italy (39.1%).

Italy, June 2013: a group of people – young, foreigners and all unemployed – is debating on “what would it make Europe more sustainable” in the context of the Youth in Action project “Io giovane cittadino in Europa” (Action 4.6, decision n° 2012 - 5560 / 003 - 001). After a discussion, their shared answer is “to have a job”. The group of young people, on the base of this idea, traces a map of the needs of the territory and elaborates a proposal with the aim to facilitate the youth professional training, the generational professional turnover and the evolution of the local economy. The proposal has been presented to the European youth during the international event EUROPIE (http://europie.org/en/program) and at the local level it will contribute to the building of the Structural Plan of the local City Hall (http://iogiovanecittadinoineuropa.blogspot.it/).

The present project takes root in the embryonic idea of this group of young persons with the aim to:
1. Deepen the analysis together with a larger number of young people living in the same area;
2. Build a network of competences composed by young people, institutions and companies;
3. Sharpen new forms of collaboration oriented to take advantage of the potential of the new economic configuration;
4. Share the conception within the local territory and with the European youth networks whereof Controvento is member.

The project will involve young people, public institutions and trade associations in Emilia Romagna Region. The evaluation of the process will be assured and documented all along the project. A coordinated communication plan will assure the sharing of the experience and the circulation of the results at the local and European level.

It will provide a) youth workers with tools which will allow them to help young people in their daily activities to take responsible decisions when it goes with their health and healthy behaviours; b) a concrete playground to young people for discussing, promoting and concretely experiencing the role of sport and outdoor activities as a means to increase the awareness of their importance for their health.

TITLE: Europe Citizen: Healthy, Employable and Responsible

DESCRIPTION:

The CHEARS project focuses on active citizenship, employability and healthy behaviours. 2014 is the year of European elections but there has long been concern regarding the lack of political participation and a weak sense of citizenship among young people, particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds. Lack of knowledge of the political processes, a breakdown of communities and disaffection with a culture of consumerism which has not benefited them has contributed to their real and perceived social and economic exclusion. Young people have been hit disproportionately by the economic crisis with 1 in every 5 at risk of poverty, but they are the greatest asset for the future of the EU. Factors such as globalisation and migration affect national allegiances meaning that the concept of European citizenship has growing significance. The CHEARS project focuses on disadvantaged young people aged 16-24. A seminar for youth workers facilitates network building and the sharing of best practice; a training workshop improves the skills of youth workers in the use of informal learning and provides them with "tools" within a Handbook of Good Practice. A multilateral youth exchange broadens horizons, combats xenophobia and improves self-confidence using sport as a vehicle. The impact will be to build responsible, employable and healthy citizens for a future Europe.

- To develop active collaboration among local NGOs, LAs, EU institutions through the creation of sustainable networks of youth mediators for exchange of good practices and ideas.

We will seek answers to - how young people can exercise their democratic citizenship and live their lives more sustainably in their very own communities, be it city or rural town. IYNF will support and empower youth leaders, organizational leaders and community facilitators in their roles of community front-runners - those that engage their peer groups to create communities that are inclusive, participative and tolerant to diversity. This will happen by developed cooperation among all involved partners - creating stronger network and exchange platform for shared knowledge, skills and inspiration regarding the topics of the project. The project includes 4 networking meetings, 5 feasibility visits, 2 evaluation meetings and 2 training courses - all involving young people, project managers and youth workers from diverse countries. IYNF will facilitate the meetings using diverse non-formal education tools and strategies. We will ensure that the meetings give space to participants to develop new partnerships, generate new project ideas and address ever-changing needs of participants and our partner organizations. The project will sustain our continuous effort to make IYNF network visible and effective in its mission to promote creative, sustainable and inclusive youth work and enable our members and partners to extend their understanding of youth work outdoor education and non-formal learning, thus benefiting local youth groups and strengthening youth participation in various areas.

TITLE: Dream Machine - Partnerships and Youth Initiatives for Community Development

DESCRIPTION:

The project “Dream Machine – Partnerships and Youth Initiatives for Community Development” is implemented in consortium with the Municipality of Kristinestad, Finland, YEPP International Resource Centre at the International Academy Berlin, Germany, and associate partners in Germany, Italy, Ireland, Poland and Slovakia. It addresses young people’s growing concern about their future and their increasing mistrust in public institutions amplified by the recent economic downturn in Europe. The overall aim of the project is to foster the initiatives of young people with fewer opportunities to improve or change their community (“Dream Machines”) and to strengthen partnerships between the local stakeholders to make these dreams and visions fulfilled. At the local level, young people develop ideas for the “Dream Machines” and present these ideas to the Local Stakeholder Circle formed out of politicians, youth workers, NGO representatives, businesses and other residents. The best projects are selected in the group and supported all the way through the project, including a financial top-up to the start-up fund. At the transnational level, young people, youth coaches and municipality representatives exchange their experiences, learn to cooperate and strengthen their advocacy and negotiation skills. Over 300 young people, youth coaches and politicians from different parts of Europe will benefit directly from international and local exchange activities and non-formal education opportunities. The implemented projects are shared on the exchange platform of the YEPP Community website and disseminated through an Advocacy Guide and a film. As a result of the project, local stakeholders better cooperate on the issues of community development and youth empowerment using non-formal learning methods; implemented youth initiatives serve community benefit; participation of young people in community projects is increased, and “Dream Machine” is set for replication in other communities.

TITLE: MOBILITY IN THE MIND

DESCRIPTION:

Why Is EYCA proposing this project? Mobility in the Mind recognises that youth mobility needs to start at home. To promote youth mobility as a possibility for all young people in Europe, they need to be engaged in the process of designing and delivering solutions. Employability and entrepreneurship is one major aspect of youth mobility that affects large numbers of young people and Europe as a whole. EYCA and its Members recognise that supporting youth employability and entrepreneurship is fundamental to ensuring better mobility opportunities for young people in Europe today. EYCA wants to exploit its unique position of having close partnerships with youth networks; with governments and policy stakeholders; with the business community and with young people directly. The youth card is a tool in the hands of young people themselves: the key to opportunities and benefits which can help their mobility. What specific outputs will be achieved? Five sectorial work streams will enable EYCA to publish knowledge about youth mobility, employability and entrepreneurship opportunities in five specific economic sectors with potential for growth. Partnerships between youth organisations, policy stakeholders and business will be established in each of these sectors. Mobility In the Mind will also generate 20 individual entrepreneurship ideas to demonstrate the possibilities which exist. What will the overall impact be? By building partnerships between youth card organisations, youth policy interests and the business sector, this project will generate knowledge and new ideas about supporting young people’s employability, including the 20 individual entrepreneurship initiatives. The multiplier effect of Mobility In the Mind lies in generating ideas, case studies and evidence about real examples of youth entrepreneurship which will be disseminated through EYCA’s network of 41 member organisations in 38 countries which engage directly with 5.1 million cardholders.

TITLE: Exploring European galaxies of partnership to enhance youth employment and entrepreneurship in sport

DESCRIPTION:

ENGSO Youth wants to represent the interest of people under the age of 35 dealing with sport in Europe, to achieve, promote and support the implementation of the ENGSO guidelines for children and youth in sport, to develop the ENGSO policy in the field of children and youth to represent the interest of young people in sport at European level. The most challenging topic for young Europeans today is unemployment. Combating youth unemployment should be a top priority to securing a positive future for young people. For this reason we welcome European wide initiatives that promote youth-employment in the sport sector, and highlight the transferable skills that sport can develop. We are committed to supporting actions in favour of improving the opportunities of employment for young people across Europe. We are motivated to contribute to fill this gap that enable young people to take an active role in labour market and fight in this way youth unemployment with our experiences in field of youth work, in non-formal education and in use of sport as a tool. So we propose this project in order to create and strengthen the partnership in Europe in favour of youth employment and sport through different activities: research - going out to search for the current situation related to youth employment in sport and spread results; train - seminars to enable young people to use skills gained through NFE in sport sector and to present their idea and have a good transition from study to work dimension; connect – bridging the gap between youth and stakeholders (educational, sport and business sector) creating strong partnership in Europe. Common task should be to influence the whole sport sector and all actors: associations, committees, clubs and companies, in recognizing the young force and their one role in helping tackling youth unemployment creating European galaxies of partnership to enhance youth employment and entrepreneurship in sport.

TITLE: Cool to reuse - Young ways for raising awareness of reuse

DESCRIPTION:

Our everyday life, now permeated by cultural patterns and behaviours based on consumerism, contributes to generate a situation of widespread uncertainty for future generations, endangering the natural balance of the whole ecosystem. One of the most common problems is the production of huge quantities of waste to be disposed. Directive 2008/98/EC on waste (Waste Framework Directive) pays serious attention to prevention - at the top of the hierarchy of measures concerning waste - and promotes the reuse.

To achieve the spread of reusing culture, it is necessary to realize an awareness campaign among the most young and support youth mobilizations, focusing on the development of innovative communication tools that can capture, engage and mobilize young Europeans. Education about reuse a sustainable consumption patterns is not only a transfer of concept and values on sustainability; above all, it consists of concrete actions developing young people’s skills, knowledge and attitudes through non-formal learning experiences to make young people more conscious consumers. For these reasons, the specific aim of the project is to promote young participation in the topic of environment and sustainability using innovative media.

Objectives of the project:

- Promote the reuse culture and sustainable consumption patterns among young people.
- Develop and promote among young people the use of innovative and convincing communication tools.
- Develop a network of European partners working together on promoting among young people, with the aid of non-formal education, a culture of re-use based on principles of environmental protection and social solidarity.

TITLE: Democratically Correct

DESCRIPTION:

Democratically Correct Project aims to bridge the gap between young people and politics through democratic participation processes during the next European elections of 2014. Young Europeans are active in the voluntary sector but they do not participate in the political system; they have little confidence in institutions due to distrust of politics and lack of knowledge of the representatives of politics. Main Objectives of the project are:

- to test new models of direct participation of young in politics with digital media
- to learn political mechanisms and systems of European elections in a non-formal way

The Partnership, the Italian National Centre for Volunteering applicant with Czech and Bulgarian partners, will play an intermediary role between civil society and politics, in order to open the politics sector to young volunteers. A Pilot Group of 30 young people from 3 European countries will work together to build a Kit of instruments “Democratically Correct” youth-oriented, to understand the dynamics, the language, and the programs of the representatives of the European elections of 2014. The Pilot Group will involve young people in voluntary associations as active protagonists of interviews, online questionnaires to European candidates, researches, glossary, blog, video and APP. The participants will test a model of direct participation, such as online voting, collaborative interview, Bar camp, Forum threads, as new form of democracy based on transparency and equal participation. The annual National Festival of Volunteering in April 2014 will be the meeting place of the Project presentation, as well as the place of analysis and diffusion of analysis and diffusion of the results to the world of politics and voluntary associations.

TITLE: Des portes ouvertes vers l'horizon - La mobilité éducative, un outil pour le développement personnel et social

DESCRIPTION:

Ce projet vise à renforcer les partenariats au niveau local et européen entre les structures actives dans le domaine de la jeunesse et de la mobilité éducative. A travers des échanges internationaux, des initiatives de jeunes et du service volontaire européen, il favorise la mobilité et l'initiative des jeunes ayant moins d'opportunités de France, Allemagne, Espagne et Turquie. En accompagnant ces jeunes, nos projets les aident à devenir responsables et autonomes au vue de leurs projets professionnelles et de découvrir des nouvelles horizons et perspectives européennes. En partageant leurs expériences, les jeunes impliqués dans nos actions peuvent jouer un rôle de multiplicateur dans leurs quartiers et inciter d'autres jeunes à la mobilité. Pour nos actions nous nous basons sur des partenariats locaux et européens qui existent depuis plusieurs années. Le travail commun, l'échange des bonnes pratiques et la mise en réseau nous permettent de rassembler nos expériences de terrain pour enrichir notre travail mutuellement.

TITLE: Europe Motivates Activates and Debates

DESCRIPTION:

The province of Zeeland is a demographically vulnerable region. The region suffers from demographic decline and young people are leaving the province. The Province of Zeeland and the Municipality of Goes would like to enter into partnership with the European Union and partners from all over Europe in order to stimulate the mainstreaming of youth policy. In order to do so we invite regional and local authorities to Zeeland to share their insights how to involve young people in the political decision making process of local authorities but also the Union. Secondly, the project has a capacity building component in order to ensure that the network forged at the seminar doesn't go to waste. A workshop on the development of EU youth projects will challenge the partners to already start thinking of implementing ideas in a concrete European context. Finally, a youth initiative will connect the theory with practice because young people will be given the opportunities to organise debates on issues they find important and transmit the outcomes to the municipal and regional authorities. We expect that by creating and fostering an European partnership, we will positively affect the capacities of youth and youth workers but more importantly, by giving youth the chance to take ownership of their communities we expect to address the deficiencies associated with demographic vulnerable areas.

TITLE: European Youth Zoom In Media

DESCRIPTION:

The European Youth Zoom in Media (EYZM) project is a two-year joint initiative of partners coming from six different European countries with the purpose to create a network of young people that will have the capacity, the knowledge and the skills to be active citizens in their communities, to create their own initiatives for critically accessing media messages and advocating for a healthier and more quality media space for young people. Young people today are targeted with the impact of different social problems, and although they do have alternatives to present and offer as solutions, they are very often lacking the skills to advocate for them and the opportunities to establish dialogue with the local stakeholders. This project aims to enable young people to gain the needed skills to critically assess the messages and challenges in their environments, to create joint initiatives and ultimately, to advocate for improvements in their local communities thus putting the concept of European citizenship into practice. The project includes an ambitious two-year programme, the first year being focused on mass media monitoring on local and national level and the second year being focused on putting the monitoring results into action by performing advocacy activities and creating dialogue with the local stakeholders, civil society organizations, researchers and decision makers. The outcomes of the project include the creation of country reports for each participating country, writing of scientific articles on the findings through the monitoring exercise, and a release of a European publication encompassing young people’s view on the monitoring experience. Involving around 5000 young people, the ultimate achievement of the project is the creation of a network of young people who are skilled in monitoring and advocacy, able to take a proactive stand in their communities and on European level, thus becoming young advocates and valuable citizens of today and tomorrow.

TITLE: Joining hands for a smart, sustainable and inclusive growth

DESCRIPTION:

As a result of the financial crisis encountered in Europe the rate of unemployment increases rapidly. Social complications, exclusion, discrimination and human rights violations, threaten vulnerable groups and youth. In an attempt to face the problem, several measures are undertaken but usually focus on the effects and not the roots of the problem. YEU, traditionally close to youth and their needs, believes that now more than ever is the right moment to act, JOIN HANDS and support youth. The aim of the project is to create a strong partnership which support and reinforce the concept of youth social entrepreneurship as a means of smart, sustainable and inclusive growth as described in the Europe 2020 Strategy. Youth social entrepreneurship is the method of pursuing innovative solutions to social problems. It fosters wealth for society as a whole, contributes to community development, supports environmental sustainability and produces social capital. The project intends to produce outputs in different levels. It will create a strong and sustainable network of partners and associated partners coming from cross-sector background. Young people involved in the training courses of this project will create their own action plan on how to become social entrepreneurs. The project will also create the manual “Steps towards youth social sustainability”, the short video “Why a smart, sustainable and inclusive growth and how to achieve it?” and the online platform “Joining hands”. It is expected that the project will have a strong impact in raising awareness about social entrepreneurship and the importance of a smart, sustainable and inclusive growth. It is expected that youth participating in its activities will develop the necessary competences to become social entrepreneurs, reduce the number of youth unemployment, increase social cohesion, ensure environmental sustainability and contribute to a smart economic growth on local and European level.

TITLE: European Voluntary Service for All

DESCRIPTION:

EVS4ALL aims to take a first step in the implementation of a European Year of Volunteering for everyone, as described in the manifesto "We are Europe! Manifesto for rebuilding Europe from the bottom up" (www.manifest-europa.eu). The pan-European campaign demands an enlargement of current and future European Voluntary programmes with the view to creating a European civil society by (1) the inclusion of cultural and social groups with fewer opportunities that are so far underrepresented in the common programmes as well as (2) the involvement of further stakeholders (foundations, municipalities, regional and national governments, companies, etc.)

During this pilot project, experienced EVS organisations and third parties (foundations and civil society organizations who are active in the youth sector) from 6 European countries will build long-term partnerships in order to exchange best practices and to pool resources, experience and skills in the domain of social inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities. Based on prior experiences and an extensive analysis the partner organisations will set up common quality criteria for the inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities - first pilot EVS activities will be prepared, implemented and evaluated accordingly. Participating volunteers will be assigned a mentor, journalists will report about their experiences in the host countries. A publication of interviews will document the volunteers’ gained experiences to mainstream the impact of cross-border voluntary services on their sense of belonging to Europe. In order to enlarge current and future European Voluntary programmes the project reaches out for more stakeholders from the fields of youth policy, civil society, media, economy, etc. Special focus will be put on the dissemination and exploitation of them project’s results to multiply its impact on the current Erasmus+ programme and the future programme generation.

TITLE: yBBregions - Youth and Brussels-Based

DESCRIPTION:

Today in Europe there is a strong demand for “subsidiarity”, regarded as key-issue to the overall architecture. Euro’s Crisis is pushing Member States to gain control and supremacy each-other, as well as over European Institutions. Moreover, Euro’s crisis one side, and globalization another side frighten Europe’s citizens. This feeds-up populism all across Europe, letting National Governments in a good position to claim against the “intrusions” of Europe in their “internal Affairs”. Regions are best-placed in order to best known and translate to Europe concrete needs of citizens. At same time, they are those who are looking at this trend the most closely (and scarily). Brussels Regional Offices are witness of what it is happening on every day and work-basis. This project was elaborated in order to provide youngsters with the same perspective. Indeed, they are the most-urged to investigate, as those issues are able to affect their rights and their future of Europeans. As a result, it aims to address those same issues in Brussels, with 80 youngsters in a timeframe of 24 months, combining two “YIA” activities: EUROPEAN VOLUNTARY SERVICE (for 16 youth unemployed) and TRANSNATIONAL YOUTH EXCHANGES (for 64 youth workers and youth unemployed). The project-idea arose from the originally bilateral cooperation-agreements signed between the Applicant and each-one of the 3 Co-Organising regions (1"EU15":2"EU25":1"EU28") on youth, culture, entrepreneurship. The challenge is to make available to young people from those regions, the same Brussels-Based cooperating-platform as a unique provider of non-formal education sources and opportunities. Improving their mutual cooperation in the youth sector, with special regard to the approximation of their respective non-formal education systems, as well as their support, recognition and validation.

The network composed by the municipalities of the Chiampo Valley (Crespadoro, Altissimo, San Pietro Mussolino, Chiampo, Arzignano, Nogarole Vicentino, Montorso Vicentino, Zermeghedo) whose leader is the Municipality of Arzignano, intends to develop a project linking some European partners in order to reflect together upon the theme of music. The project “Youth partnership trough "Youth in Action" Programme and non-formal learning” focuses on partnership and involvement of different partners from different part of the Europe in building aware and strong civil society. The project is aimed to bring awareness and the importance to European youth nationals about non-formal learning by developing projects which combine various measures of the “Youth in Action” Programme. It will be conducted in less developed areas because life in these areas is very challenging for youngsters and their vision to future are also widened. The project will be developed mainly in Bystrzyca Kłodzka / Długopole Górne, Poland and will involve 470 young people with youth workers and will be divided for several parts: partnership-building activity, seminars, national youth initiatives, training course, Job Shadowing, European Voluntary Service, youth exchanges, evaluation meeting. Through the project EFM and partner organizations have hope to train young people to be youth leaders, working with young people with fewer opportunities to make their own project in the field of non-formal learning and to mobilize local authorities to participate actively in the lives of young people and support their learning experiences through various activities. The work of youngsters and youth workers in a frame of this project will offer new ideas and new methods of their work. Youngsters will be aware of all the problems they come across and the consequences like poverty and social exclusion. Often youngsters find it difficult to get a job in their countries, because of these problems the level of poverty gets higher in these regions. Because of these problems in these regions youngsters have a need to structure their lives through programs hence forth the project aims to support them in their life situations by giving them training, work experience and a new structure in their life and also giving them the opportunity to become more creative.

DESCRIPTION:

La fédération des Centres Sociaux du Pas-de-Calais anime un collectif jeunesse, constitué d’animateurs et coordinateurs jeunesse des Centres Sociaux du Pas-de-Calais. Depuis 2 ans maintenant, ce collectif travaille en coopération à des échanges de jeunes. Il souhaite aujourd’hui, avec l’appui des acteurs de leurs centres, développer les projets européens via YiA, notamment 1.1, 1.2, 2, et 4.3. En parallèle, la fédération internationale des Centres Sociaux, IFS, développe son réseau européen, et met en œuvre une coordination. Nous souhaitons donc développer ce réseau avec nos partenaires via la jeunesse. L’idée serait que des jeunes puissent aller et être accueillis dans des structures similaires et amorcer les projets d’échanges, les thématiques etc...Valoriser la jeunesse et proposer aux jeunes de devenir ambassadeurs de leur pays, de leur région, de leur ville et de leur Centre Social. Nous souhaitons aujourd’hui mettre en œuvre sur la période des deux années à venir des échanges de jeunes, des services volontaires européens, des séminaires de travail, de contact et des visites de préparation afin de permettre aux encadrants de se rencontrer, et d’assurer le meilleur contexte pour les projets, mais aussi aux jeunes d’évoluer dans un contexte favorisant. Outre les effets attendus au niveau des jeunes impliqués nous attendons des impacts directs sur la structure (projets intergénérationnels, des jeunes devenus ressources sur des projets adultes/séniors - GRUNDTVIG), l’ouverture d’une fenêtre sur l’Europe, ainsi que des effets indirects sur les territoires et les acteurs. Cette mise en œuvre nécessite des moyens en terme de coordination car tous les Centres Sociaux ne sont pas au même niveau quant à l’échelle européenne. La montée en compétence des jeunes, des animateurs et des acteurs du projet sont également attendus. La pérennité des partenariats établis nous semblent importants. Ainsi, des ”jumelages” entres centres sociaux européens seront proposés.
