INTRODUCTION

The key aim of setting out past projects in this compendium is to inspire others to create new, future projects. By giving concrete, detailed information about previous projects it is possible to demonstrate clearly what kind of activities can be carried out in the framework of the YOUTH programme, although the list is by no means exhaustive. The compendium offers an opportunity to discover ideas and stimulate the imagination.

The projects presented in this Compendium were selected for funding under the YOUTH programme within the so-called third country co-operation with the countries of South East Europe (SEE) for budget year 2004.

Third Country Co-operation with the SEE countries, initially launched in 1995, aims to further develop and increase the number of these activities to comprise more diverse partnerships and to improve the quality of projects.

The objective of youth activities with countries outside the European Union is to promote a better understanding of the young people’s respective environments and to foster a sense of solidarity among them. These activities enable those involved to try out different forms of democratic participation in society. By contributing to the development of the youth sector in the partner countries, the YOUTH programme facilitates the acquisition of knowledge and techniques required for the active participation of young people into civil society.

This Compendium presents the projects selected with the SEE countries and covers various types of activities under Actions 1, 2 and 5 of the Programme.

So what are Actions 1, 2 and 5?

Action 1 - Youth Exchanges bring together groups of young people aged between 15 and 25 from different backgrounds and from several countries, providing them with an opportunity to meet, and tackle issues under various themes. This leads to a better understanding of the diversity of culture, and to an appreciation of the value of that diversity. Group exchanges aim to combat prejudices and stereotypes, to promote active citizenship and to raise positive awareness of other cultures among the young participants and in local host communities.

Action 2 - European Voluntary Service enables a young person to become a volunteer in another country for a specific period, usually 6-12 months. This provides an informal intercultural learning experience for the young people involved, encouraging their integration into society and active participation, whilst also increasing their employability and giving them an opportunity to show solidarity with other people. Voluntary service projects support the development of local communities, foster the creation of new partnerships and promote the exchange of experience and good practice. These projects are a result of partnerships between sending organisations, host organisations and the volunteers themselves. They do not involve job-substitution and they are non-profit-making and unpaid.

Action 5 - Support Measures are designed to promote the aims of the YOUTH programme in a number of ways. They assist the development of the other Actions of the YOUTH programme by increasing the quantity and quality of projects submitted. Alternatively they may contribute to achieving the overall objectives of the Programme and to strengthening European youth policy or they may contribute to the development of the youth sector in the partner countries.

Action 5 activities are carried out in the fields of co-operation and partnerships, training measures and youth information. Cooperation and partnership activities help to establish permanent working relations between partners, or to promote innovation that favours new multilateral youth exchanges and voluntary service. Training activities provide youth workers or youth leaders and other support persons with the necessary skills to organise and manage transnational youth activities based on intercultural learning, or provide them with knowledge and competencies to work with young people with special needs. Youth information projects encourage greater cooperation and the development of new activities or materials to complement activities carried out in the field of non-formal education.

Find out more about all these projects in the following pages, where they are listed by Action.

This document is designed not only to give information on the accepted projects, but to be used as partner search resource as well.

The project references indicating the country first are selected at national level, and further information can be obtained from the respective National Agency (for contact details, please refer to http://europa.eu.int/comm/youth/program/natage_en.html), for the project references starting with six digits more information can be obtained from the European Commission or from the Technical Assistance Office (for contact details, please refer to the last page of this document).

YOUTH PROGRAMME

Action 1

Youth Exchanges
Beneficiary: VLAAMSE DIENST SPEELPLEINWERK VZW

Project Title: A different kind of Marva

Youngsters from 6 different European realities want to exchange about their ‘involvement’ in their local youth work initiative, about ‘volunteerism’ and about playing with children and youngsters. More concrete, they would like to promote a space were youngsters can exchange their ideas & experiences about working with kids from all possible different backgrounds. These themes will be tackled very practically, and in workshops, various games and group activities non-formal education will be stimulated. The youngsters will also participate in mixed groups in several Flemish play initiatives that work with a diversity of children (e.g. different culture, handicapped, …). There they will be actively involved, by cooperating with other youngsters in preparing activities and playing with children. They will not only look at the diversity in working with the children, but also in their own lives. This will be tackled throughout presentations, interactive cultural visits, simulation games and contact with the local community at the play initiatives.

The promoters try to investigate the common point between the creativity and the environment. They have two principal lines: how the artist finds inspiration in the natural environment and how the environment education could use the arts in order to bring ecology closer to people. They have planned several activities like discussions about the importance of environmental education in the different countries participating in the exchanges, visit to exhibitions of land art in their regions, preparation of performances in the nature, meetings with artists who work with elements of nature, etc.

Project Title: Strengthening human bridges

The exchange project Strengthening human bridges will work on the social rehabilitation and the identity building process by using artistic tools and civic means. This project is born from the wish to work together six youth organisations coming from six different countries from the Mediterranean side of Europe (Spain, France, Italy, Croatia, Serbia and Bosnia Herzegovina). The exchange will take place in Mostar (BiH) during the month of January 2005. During this period they will organize activities related to the following issues: civic culture and civic skills, European identity, cultural prejudices, youth creation, freedom of speech and expression, imaginative ways of conflict transformation, civil society development and the role of youth in Europe. The involvement of the participants during the project organisation gives them the chance to gain new skills that will allow them to act as responsible, active, prejudice-free citizens. To reach this goal they will have the advanced planning visit in November 2004. In the long term they would like to make project sustainable and plan reciprocal hosting exchange.

Project Title: Egymást gazdagító nemzeti sokszínűségünk, és közös kulturális gyökereink...

French, Hungarian, Serbian and Croatian youngsters are gathering in the South of Hungary in order to participate in a 9 days-long programme on culture. The guests will get a good insight into the colourful life and thinking of the inhabitants, as well as, demonstrate the values of their own culture. Through the mutual experiences and discussions with the hosts, youngsters come to understand and articulate the mutual roots of their European identity. Through these experiences the youngsters will realise that the diversity of the nations does not mean a division among them, in fact it enriches European society as a whole.

Project Title: The 4 elements - "earth, wind, fire and water!"

Every human being carries all the characteristics of the four elements inside. The goal of this project is to give young peoples the opportunity to get a feeling for the elements. Planned are: 3 workshops with the themes earth, wind and fire. The fourth element, water, should be involved and part of the free time activities. This is one of the reasons why the Camp in Borozija has been chosen again, it offers the best infrastructure and possibilities for the realization of this Project. In the year 2002 Austria realized a pilot project "Together as one (Topic: Addiction and Risk prevention; multilateral with four nations: Italy, Bosnia, Croatia, Austria)" and again 2003 the project "From printed news to web (Topic: Media competence; multilateral with 6 nations: Slovenia, Italy, France, Croatia, Bosnia, Austria)". Because of the decision to follow a rotation principle, which has been decided with the votes of all the participating countries, the coordination and the hand in of the project has been delegated to Italy.

Hip-Hop culture plays a significant part in the life of young people. In its different expressions (graffiti-writing, skating, break-dance, DJ-ing,...) it is widely diffused all around Europe and the world. The aim of this exchange is to compare the different "scenes" in East and West Europe and to think about their (eventual....) relationships with the promotion of youth politics and youth participation at a local level.

In this youth exchange four groups of young people from EU and SEE countries will teach each other traditional dances from all of the countries where they come from. The dancing groups will be mixed so everyone will learn at least one traditional dance from all countries. In the same time the process of intercultural learning will be facilitated. The composition of the countries is unique: 2 Baltic neighbours and 2 Balkan neighbours. In both cases there are lots of difficult moments in the history to be overcome. At the end of the youth exchange a public performance will be made in front of the local community where all mixed groups will perform the dances from all countries.

Project Title: Ask in Sarajevo

Even Bosnians don't remember... Ašk means love, love excitement, desire, flame. From that comes a verb ašikovanje. Ašikovanje was usual in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Young men would go under the girl's windows, or at the front gates of their gardens, and there they would have long love conversations. Through discovering the ancient traditions connected to charming, seduction and love we want young people to reflect about nowadays love. They will research and prepare performances about meaning of love in their cultures and present it to the international groups. During the artistic workshops young people will work on the topic "Love yesterday-love today" and show these results to the public in the final performance in Sarajevo.

Meeting new cultures and learning about them is the most successful way to combat discrimination and xenophobia. Young people, by being brought into contact with other culture, can learn a lot from each other - they can discover and explore similarities and differences between their cultures and realize that differences are not something we should be afraid of, but something what can enrich our life. Young people from Serbia and Montenegro, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Italy and Slovenia are going to become aware of this since they are going to spend their time together for ten days. Interactive lectures and workshops, group working and discussions, practical work, excursions and leisure activities are going to link them together.

Project Title: Many friendship - One Nature (Balkan Edition)

An intercultural meeting in the former Yugoslavia region (Serbia) is one of a variety of youth projects that organisation already carried out. It is an upgrade of a successful project One Nature - Many Friendships that was held this summer at the feet of the Alps in idyllic natural environment. It was there that the idea to organise a project with former Yugoslavian countries was raised. We responded to the invitation of Serbian partner organisation and decided to carry out the project there. The main story will take place on a camping site in an idyllic mountain region by Fruška gora near Novi Sad. A weekly stay in natural environment with wide range of recreational-sports and educational activities proved to be perfect for making strong partner contacts and developing quality relations among young people that overcome racial, religious and other discriminations. All the natural priorities should be used for realisation of a good interactive programme in connection to the theme of intercultural learning, presentation of some of the European youth programmes and learning about the Balkan and European area. The programme is focused only on four countries, which were interested for such cooperation.

Project's whole construction, in which young people will have their say, was built and discussed in Nottingham in September 2002. We will within the lines of this project take photographs of ugly looking buildings and disturbing objects in their surrounding area for a photography display 'our reality'. We will during this project discover geographical and cultural differences among themselves and countries. Based on this new acquired knowledge they will become aware of advantages and disadvantages of their own citizenship and their actual possibilities in life. Spending time with youngsters from another country means overcoming nationalism and ethnocentrism, a unique firsthand chance of learning about another culture and way of life.

Project Title: Environmental experience on an organic farm

WWOOF (Willing Workers on Organic Farms) is a network of organic farms, where young people interested in "biological agriculture" can help. Volunteers are supposed to help in all kinds of farm work (considering their special interests). The kind of work strongly depends on the farm, season and weather: feeding the animals, checking/repairing the tools and tractor, ploughing, harrowing, wood cutting (by chain saw), mowing the meadows, helping to build a biological sewage plant or a building by means of biological material (like straw, wood, wool), heating the stove etc. As volunteers are treated like family-members, they will soon get into the rhythm of the host family. The farmers voluntarily show them the surroundings and try their best to make them a part of the local community. As most of the organic farmers also sell their products at their farm or at local markets, volunteers can also make an interesting experience there. "Accompanying" organically grown food from sowing to harvest, and to learn about different methods of processing and conserving it, is another very interesting part of their stay. Volunteers will also be introduced to alternative energy plants and alternative ways of house-building. Within the WWOOF-project it is also possible to change farms in order to get to know different people and learn about different methods of organic farming.

Project Title: Polish volunteers for the Kumanovo community

DOVERBA as a part of a wider network on national level has a project - campaign for informing people on the important matters regarding HIV/AIDS. The volunteers will assist the team in campaign and prepare the necessary materials. Also the volunteers will help in the organising of the counselling in local office as well as be part of the counselling. Volunteers will assist in the preparation of the monthly magazine and inform people on the possibilities of the project. Another part of the project in DOVERBA is involvement of volunteers in practising reconciliation methods. There is a reason for this since the local community where we work is ethnically mixed, mainly Albanians and Macedonians, and there is still tension among the different ethnical groups. Mediation is a process that helps the people of one area to solve problems among each other with a person that is educated for peaceful conflict resolution. In our organisation we educate young people in the basics of these skills in order to become the mediators in various situations. The volunteer will be educated in the process of mediation and afterwards will assist the team of educators in peace building process.

The two volunteers from Bosnia will be part of a larger group of volunteers taking part in a 3-week project "The Great Outdoors." The short-term EVS project "The Great Outdoors" aims to provide a group of young people encountering social exclusion with a beneficial experience which will provide them with the confidence, skills, experience and desire to undertake further voluntary experience within the EVS programme. The short-term nature of the project is vital in attracting volunteers with disadvantage, who may not initially be in a position to take part in a long-term project. The location is an Outdoor Activity Centre, operated by the local authority, which also hosts long-term EVS volunteers. The project aims to carry out a range of conservation tasks in an area of outstanding natural beauty. Volunteers will work with staff of the centre and the Malvern Hills Conservation Trust to carry out practical environmental work, such as building footpaths and planting trees. Skilled supervisors and trainers will be on hand to provide the volunteers with the necessary skills to carry out the work both safely and competently. All tools and equipment will be supplied. Through participation in challenging outdoor activities we aim to aid volunteers' personal development and encourage self-confidence, team building skills and problem-solving skills. To this aim volunteers will receive instruction from qualified and experienced instructors in a range of outdoor pursuits, which will include climbing, orienteering, canoeing and hiking. The volunteers will be provided with all essential safety clothing and equipment, and will also receive rigorous instruction regarding Health and Safety procedures. The project will provide the volunteers with the opportunity to meet and socialise with volunteers from a wide range of European countries, as well as with some of their British peers (we arrange for groups of young British people to visit the project, and we employ young British youth workers to help with supervision work). We feel this is a crucial element to gain further insight into the British culture. English language lessons will be provided to support the volunteers' ability to communicate while in the UK. We aim to arrange for a group of volunteers from as many countries as possible to participate in the project together, in order to expose the young people to other European cultures, promoting intercultural learning and thereby European Citizenship and solidarity.

We feel it is particularly important for organisations from South Eastern Europe to be involved in the YOUTH programme, as we feel that volunteers from another European country can contribute an additional dimension to post-war community development and multicultural youth work which has been an important topic for many not-for-profit organisations in this region over the last decade.

The ICYE federation is an international NGO which has 35 National Committees and four regional bodies with its headquarters in Berlin. ICYE promotes short and long-term youth exchanges combined with voluntary service activities. It enhances youth mobility and intercultural learning through youth exchange programmes, study visits, training and issue seminars. This EVS long-term project is a final phase of a series of projects entitled Youth and European Solidarity. The theme "Refugees, Human Rights and Reconciliation" was proposed by youth workers in Balkan Countries in view of their strong involvement in this topic. The project aims to involve 15 volunteers from EU and SEE (AT1, FI1, FR1, DE1, IT1, LT1, ES1, AL1, HR1, BH2, MK1, MK2, YU2) who would deliver their voluntary service in AT1, FR1, DE1, IT1, LT2, ES1, HR1, BH2, MK3, YU2. An Action 5-Support measure is to take place in Feb. 2004 to prepare implementation of this project - a training course on Refugees, Human Rights and Reconciliation will enable the host, sending or host coordinating organisations from EU and SEE countries to acquire the necessary skills in organising and implementing EVS projects and to establish lasting regional and international cooperation. The EVS project would be reciprocal, involving sending and hosting on both sides EU and Balkan countries, 6 EU volunteers are to be engaged in human rights education, refugee care, multiethnic youth work projects in SEE and 8 SEE will volunteer in refugee centres, youth centres for migrants and in anti racism and Human Rights NGOs in the EU. They would receive all the required training and support as well as special training related to their tasks.

Project Title: Fiatalság, hatékonyság

The long term goal of the project of Cromo Foundation is to contribute to the strengthening the local democracy by promoting the participation of youth / youth NGOs in decision making process in the Central and Eastern European and Southern-Eastern European countries and to motivate the participants to cooperate with each other in the framework of Youth 2000-2006 Program.

It is essential because in the above mentioned countries the level of involvement in decision making and democratic process is rather low for the moment. Youth usually feel that they have no influence on their future life. They are very rarely involved in making decisions affecting their future, although they are the most affected by these decisions. This program teaches youth NGOs, how to communicate, cooperate with the decision makers as well as how to motivate youth to participate in decision making process.

This program involves both training and developmental components. Training partly focuses on leadership development and management in NGOs working for youth. Developmental component includes coaching participants on community development tools in the framework of the project: we are to make a survey about the situation of active participation of youth in decision making process in the participating countries; we are to achieve long term sustainability of all participating youth organisations by organising management and capacity building training course in Hungary; we are to achieve cooperation between youth / youth organisation and the local authorities in seven countries in Central and Eastern Europe, Southern-Eastern Europe by organising, facilitating a Citizens’ Jury Meeting in the countryside of Hungary as a model. In Hungary the participants can obtain knowledge on how to organise a citizens’ Jury Meeting, after implementing this project they will be able to facilitate a meeting themselves in their home integrating the cultural differences of their country.

Project Title: A1 Fireworks! ("Training Course for running successful youth exchanges")

This international training course brings together 20 youth leaders/youth workers who are active in youth work in local NGOs and youth organisations in Austria, Latvia, Macedonia, Slovakia, Serbia and Montenegro, and who plan to organize a youth exchange in the near future.

During the training the participants will get familiar with the Youth Programme and gain practical skills and abilities they need to organise a youth exchange (intercultural pedagogical awareness, social and organisational competence, project management, ...)

This TC is the first module of a three-step concept, including as 2nd step a practical phase (running a youth exchange), and a concluding follow up-training module for evaluation and deepening of methods (depending on the expressed needs of the participants).

The overall aim to improve the quality of youth exchanges will be strengthened by fostering international cooperation between the involved NGO’s to develop common activities, and to contribute to sustainable changes in fields of non-formal education.

Project Title: BALtic & BALcan Human Minorities and Social Cohesion

Context of this project has its roots in situation in Macedonia. Due to the political process the tension between Macedonia and Albanian inhabitants increases. It is very well observed that even young people involved in NGOs - so those really educated, tolerant and open for cultural interactions - have problem to stay away from strong judgements and sometimes even decisions to attack the opponents, this situation creates potential danger. This situation is not only Macedonian case, it is quite similar in other countries in the Balkans and the Baltic states that appeared on the map at the end of last century after being part of federations like USSR or Yugoslavia. In both regions many people experience what it means to be minority, majority, move the borders, fight for the rights, loose rights, feel at home, feel foreign in his/her country, create new borders, not accept boarder, being oppressed. The training aims at developing participants competences needed to run European youth projects aimed at overcoming xenophobia, discrimination targeting minority young people issues.

Project Title: Balkan Training Days - Strengthening Civil Society in SEE Countries

The main purpose of the seminar is to empower young people from SEE with the knowledge on project management, basic EU issues and YOUTH Programme. We want them to be able to manage the non-governmental organization (what involves everything from project proposal writing and fundraising to implementation and evaluation) and therefore, to contribute to the development of the civil society in the SEE, that is not possible without obtaining the knowledge on EU in general and its main programmes for development of the civil society.
